The power of one idea: extract nitrogen from the air

Our three remarkable founders asked brave questions and took bold action to solve a human challenge.

Their collaboration saved lives, fed millions and helped farmers create profitable businesses.

Yara and Lantmännen lead the way towards world's first fossil free food chain

From field to fork: A joint effort to reduce the carbon footprint of food production

- A fossil free food chain is only possible with mineral fertilizers produced with renewable energy
- Pilot project that aims to enable consumers to mitigate their climate impact by making low-carbon food choices.
